

As I only watch a few channels and pay for many channels, I would greatly appreciate the option of only ordering the channels that I watch. That being said, I do not support the government forcing providers to make this offer. Providers should offer a la carte channels of their own free will.